*P3a. Description: (Describe resource and its major elements. Include design, materials, condition, alterations, size, setting, and boundaries)

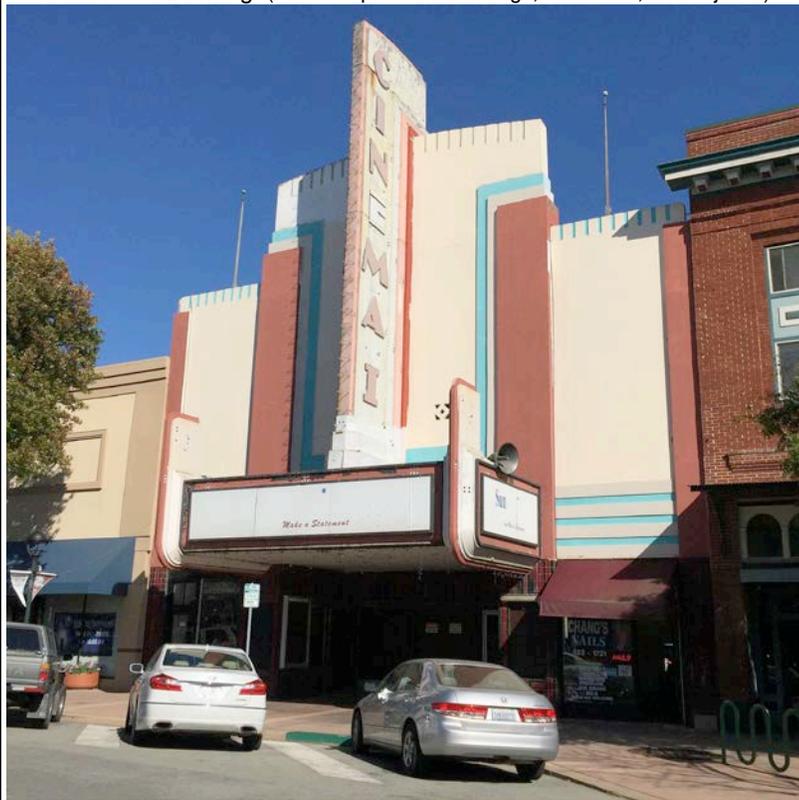

A two-story reinforced concrete commercial building, rectangular in plan. Its simple Modern design concentrates on the facade which is built skyward from the structure's corners toward the center fin, which dominates the building. The wall cladding is a combination of glazed tile in a raised geometric pattern along the first floor level and stucco above. The building steps up from the marquee in two levels with simple pilasters repeating the movement. The main recessed theater entry is flanked by small office spaces. The El Rey Barber shop to the south is still basically intact as it was in the 1930's. The marquee appears to be of more recent vintage although thoroughly in keeping with the rest of the structural ensemble.

B10. Significance:

Historic Significance Summary Evaluation

One of three theaters along Main Street in Salinas, which represent the growth and popularity of the entertainment form during the 1930s. Each takes on a different aspect of the evolving Art Deco-Moderne movement in architecture making it possible to follow its development overtime in this Main Street microcosm of the form. Despite some changes in signage, the theatre is an excellent example of the Moderne architectural form, and with the Foresters Building to its south, become the only historic anchor to the 300 block of Main Street at its southern entry. It qualifies as a Salinas historic resource.

2017 Historic Integrity Summary Evaluation

The storefronts have undergone a replacement since the 1988 survey. However, the building maintains sufficient character-defining features to establish its historic significance.
